TURKEY SIDESTEPS ISSUE AND OFFERS APOLOGIES TO OFFENDED ALLIED POWERS

WASHINGTON, D. C. Library of Congress

The Porte, However, Will Have to Go Much Further Than an Apology to Satisfy Triple Entente That She is in Earnest—Reparation Will be Demanded for Warlike Operations of Turkish Fleet in Black Sea.

REPORTS COME FROM CONSTANTINOPLE THAT ANOTHER RUSSIAN STEAMER HAS BEEN SEIZED

Germans Continue to Hammer at the Allied Armies in Belgium and Northern France, in Efforts to Break Through to the Coast—Fighting is of the Most Desperate Character, is Latest Report from Front.

London, Nov. 2.—The grand vizier of Turkey has apologised on behalf of his government for the war-like operations of the Turkish fleet under German commanders in the Black Sea, but it was stated authoritatively tonight that the Porte will have to go much further than this before the powers of the Triple Entente will agree to resume friendly relations with the Ottoman government.

There is every reason to believe that despite the apology of the grand vizier, which it is understood comes from the peace party in the Turkish cabinet and may not be adhered to by Enver Pasha, the minister of war, and his Young Turk followers, France, Russia and Great Britain not only will demand reparation for the operations of the Turkish fleet in the Black Sea, but will insist that Turkey's entire fleet, or at any rate, the cruisers Goeben, Breslau and Hamideh be put out of commission until after the war, Turkey's security being guaranteed in the meantime.

This would give Russia such superiority in the Black Sea that there would be no danger of Turkish raids. It is suggested also that demobilization of the Turkish army will be demanded, which would mean that those troops which have crossed the Egyptian frontier must be withdrawn.

However, as the terms of Turkey's apology has not been published and must be considered by the Entente powers before the apology is accepted or refused, there seems to be a long way to go before diplomatic relations between the Ottoman government and the Allies can be resumed.

Meanwhile a report comes from Constantinople of the seizure of another Russian steamer and also that Bulgaria, which had been asked to choose the side on which she would fight, had commenced to mobilize her second line troops.

TERRIBLE LOSSES ON BOTH SIDES.

The Germans continue to strike hard blows on the Allies' lines in their endeavor tot get through to the coast. Thus far they have found every road blocked, but apparently disregarding losses they continue to attack.

The floods, the Belgian army and the British fleet having barred their way southwestward along the coast, the Germans are now striking on a line stretching from Ypres, in Belgium, to LaBassee, farther south in France, but seemingly with no more success. The stubbornness of the fighting along this line may be gathered from the fact that the town of Messines, which the Germans now occupy, has been taken and retaken no less than four times since last Saturday, each time with enormous losses in killed and wounded.

Attacks also have been made along the entire battle front as far east as the Vosges region, but, according to the French report, with the Germans having no more success than in the northwest.

The belief is growing here, and it also has been expressed by those returning from Belgium, that the Germans are making a last effort to get through to the coast and that if it fails they will fall back to positions prepared in Central Belgium.

Although the fighting is continuous on the East Prussian frontier, in Poland and in Galicia there is no important change in the situation and it is believed none is likely until the Russian armies come up with the Germans, who are retiring from the Vistula toward the Warthe river. On this river it is considered likely another big battle will be fought.

The backbone of the rebellion in South Africa seems broken. Col. Maritz's command in the northern Cape Province has been defeated. Several of the raiders and most of their men have been captured. General Beyers is in flight and General DeWet has opened negotiations for surrender, it is said.

The German cruiser Karlsruhe has added three more British steamers to her list of captures in the Atlantic. One, the Van Dyck, is a vessel of about 1,000 tons.

There were reports today of naval activity in the straits of Dover. A dispatch from Dover said a British torpedo boat destroyer was observed in action, apparently against a German submarine.

TWO FACTIONS IN TURKEY.

Message to Washington from Ambassador Tells of Efforts for Peace.

Washington, Nov. 2.—Turkey's apology through the grand vizier "for recent events in the Black Sea", announced today at London, was a sequel to events which Ambassador Morgenthau reported today in confidential cipher messages to the State Department. It was accepted here as indicating clearly that conservative members of the Ottoman cabinet purpose to avert war with the Triple Entente.

Mr. Morganthau cabled under date of 5 P. M. Saturday that shortly after the Russian ambassador demanded his passports the Turkish minister of agriculture called on a certain neutral diplomat and asked him to go to the Russian envoy to ascertain if an apology by Turkey for the bombardment of Russian ports in the Black Sea would be accepted and would pacify Russia.

The neutral diplomat saw the Russian ambassador, who said that his instructions to leave Constantinople were absolute but that when all German sailors, soldiers and officers were dismissed summarily from the Turkish army and navy and when he had been advised of their departure from Turkey, he would return and resume diplomatic relations with the Ottoman Empire.

Later in the day the Turkish minister of agriculture called on the same neutral diplomat to learn if an apology would be accepted by the Russian government. The same reply was made and then the Russian, French and British ambassadors left at 7 P. M. Saturday on a special train arranged by the American ambassador.

Although details of the Turkish apology reported from London had not reached here officials and diplomats conversant with the situation did not believe the Triple Entente would be satisfied with the written apology unless accompanied by the German officers, sailors and Soldiers.

The ministers of finance, interior and agriculture are endeavoring to keep Turkey at peace with the entente but the authorities are said to have strongly favored aiding Germany.

The American ambassador is making arrangements for Americans to leave Turkey.

From reports dispatched by Mr. Morganthau before cable communication with Constantinople was served late Saturday night and from the Turkish apology will be forwarded to London with a ray of hope that Turkey would take into account her present financial troubles. The entry of Turkey into the war was viewed here with some concern as to the possibilities of anti-Christian uprisings and danger to American missionaries.

REPORTS WERE DELAYED.

American Ambassador at Constantinople Sent Word to Washington

Washington, Nov. 2.—Delayed messages from American Ambassador Morganthau at Constantinople, dated late Saturday, says that the Turkish ministers of agriculture and interior through a neutral diplomat asked the Russian ambassador before his departure what terms would pacify Russia, and if an apology would be satisfactory.

The Russian ambassador replied that he had instructions to leave Constantinople, but that if all the German officers were dismissed from the Turkish navy and he received further instructions from Petrograd, he would return.

Ambassador Morganthau assisted in arranging a special train for the Brit-

DECLARE NORTH SEA A MILITARY AREA

Gravest Dangers to Merchant Vessels Entering There

ENGLAND TAKES ACTION

Move Made in Retaliation for Mining of Waters North of Ireland by Germany—Vessels Warned Not to Enter Sea.

London, Nov. 2.—The entire North Sea has been declared a military area and merchant vessels entering it will be exposed to the gravest dangers from mines. It has been necessary to lay mines from warships which are searching night and day for suspicious craft.

This action has been taken as a reply to the laying of mines by the Germans in the waters north of Ireland.

The secretary of the admiralty made the following announcement of the virtual closing of the North Sea to traffic:

"During the last week the Germans have scattered mines indiscriminately in the open sea on the main trade route from America to Liverpool via the north of Ireland.

"Peaceful merchant ships already have been blown up with loss of life by this agency. The White Star liner Olympic escaped disaster by pure good luck and but for warnings given by British cruisers other British and neutral merchant and passenger vessels would have been destroyed.

"These mines cannot have been laid by any German ships of war. They have been laid by some merchant vessel flying a neutral flag.

"In these circumstances, having regard to the safety of peaceful commerce on the high seas and to the maintenance within the limits of international law of trade between neutral countries, the admiralty feels it necessary to adopt exceptional measures.

Made Military Area.

"They therefore give notice that the whole of the North Sea must be considered a military area. Within this area merchant shipping of all kinds, traders of all countries, fishing craft and all other vessels will be exposed to the gravest dangers from mines which it has been necessary to lay and which is searched night and day for suspicious craft.

"All merchant and fishing merchant ships are hereby warned of the dangers they are in when entering this area. From the fifth of November onwards the admiralty announce that all ships passing a line drawn from the northern point of the Hebrides through the Faroe islands to Iceland do so at their own peril.

"Ships of all countries wishing to trade to and from Norway, Denmark and Holland are advised to come if inward bound, by the English channel and the Straits of Dover. There they will be given sailing directions which will pass them safely, so far as Great Britain is concerned, up the east coast of England to Farne Island, whence a safe route will, if possible, be given to Lindesnas light house.

"From this point they should turn north or south, according to their destinations, keeping as near the coast as possible. The converse applies to vessels outward bound.

"By strict adherence to these routes the commerce of all countries will be able to reach its destination in safety so far as Great Britain is concerned, but any straying, even for a few miles, from the course thus indicated, may be followed by fatal consequences."

MAY SEND FEDERAL TROOPS TO ARKANSAS STRIKE ZONE.

Secretary Garrison and Attorney General Gregory Confer With Wilson.

Washington, Nov. 2.—President Wilson, Attorney General Gregory and Secretary Garrison at a long conference at the White House tonight discussed the advisability of sending Federal troops to the Hartford Valley, Ark., strike zone to assist Frank A. Youmans, United States district judge, in enforcing the orders of his court.

No decision was reached. It was stated, however, that the matter would be held in abeyance at least until tomorrow pending advices from the Federal judge as to the ability of his marshals to cope with the situation. Bloodshed and rioting and an almost uncontrollable situation were pictured in dispatches from the strike region. This is the first request of the kind that has come to the Federal government from a court in many years, but it is fully covered by Federal statutes giving the Department of Justice power to call on the military branch of the government for assistance in enforcing the laws.

Perfect Election Day Weather

Washington, Nov 2.—Fair skies and moderate temperatures, over the entire country except five Lake States and portions of Montana and Texas, was the election day weather forecast announced tonight by government observers. In western Texas unsettled conditions with occasional rains were indicated. In most of the country conditions "just right for getting out the vote" were promised. Even in the unlucky lake States the forecaster held out a ray of hope.

Early in the evening ideal weather for election was indicated.

WOODROW WILSON CANDIDATE IN 1916

Men Close to the President So Understand Plans

AND WORK TO THAT END

Chief Executive Is Confident of Outcome of Today's Election—Goes to New Jersey to Cast His Ballot for Democracy

Washington, Nov. 2.—On the eve of the congressional election it became known today that men close to President Wilson are working on the understanding that he will be a candidate in 1916 despite his own silence on the subject.

Although no formal statement was issued, White House officials say Mr. Wilson is confident both Senate and House will be safely Democratic as a result of tomorrow's elections. Predictions were made that the majority in the House will be more than fifty and that the present majority in the Senate will be increased.

On the outcome of tomorrow's election, however, depends whether the President will call an extra session of Congress later this month. If the party does not retain control of Congress, it was said the President would call an extra session in order that policies he stands for may be carried to completion during the life of the present Congress.

Mr. Wilson will go to Princeton tomorrow to vote.

WILL ARREST STUDENTS.

Of Columbia Univeralty When They Offer to Vote in Today's Election.

New York, Nov. 2.—By the arrest of Columbia University students when they vote here tomorrow, Attorney General Parsons hopes to settle in this state the question as to whether a student loses a local residence when attending school.

The students for whom the warrants have been issued, it is understood, come from Southern states.

NOT A BOARD OF CENSORSHIP.

State Department Has Given No One Permission to Show Pictures.

Washington, Nov. 2.—Acting Secretary Lansing issued a statement today announcing that the State Department had declined to "act as censor" for moving picture films dealing with the European war. Mr. Lansing had been advised that a concern was exhibiting such a film, claiming to have the Secretary of State's permission for its presentation.

TURKISH STEAMER SUNK.

Commander Blew Up Two Vessels to Prevent Capture by Enemies' Fleet.

Amsterdam, via London, Nov. 2. — A Constantinople dispatch says:

"According to reliable news, an Anglo-French fleet is today entering Tesheme Bay, Asia Minor, forty miles west of Smyrna, where the small Turkish gunboat Berak Reis and the Turkish steamer Kanili Adda were anchored. The commander of the Turkish gunboat sank the steamer and blew up his own vessel to prevent their capture by the allied fleet."

SLIGHT DEFECT IN THE CURRENCY ACT IS FOUND

But Reserve Board Has Plan to Remedy It.

Assessment Against Member Banks Has Been Levied To Raise Money for Salary of Members of The Board

Washington, Nov. 2.—The Federal Reserve Board today announced a plan to remedy a slight defect in the new currency act and to provide for payment of it's members' salaries. Through Secretary Willis it announced a levy of four tenths of one percent against the Federal Reserve Banks for the purpose of defraying expenses for the first half year of its existence.

The law gave the organization committee $100,000 to spend, but Congress did not then contemplate that the banks would not be in operation for nearly eleven months after it's passage. The expenses of the board and its assistants are by law to be paid by the banks.

The $100,000 has been spent, however, and the levy was found to be necessary.

Secretary Willis announced that the expense includes an estimated charge of $200,000 for dies and the preparation of Federal Reserve notes. This item in the future is expected to be much smaller. The actual cost of maintaining the board has not been finally estimated.

Reserve banks are to pay one third of the assessment immediately, a third within thirty days and the rest within sixty days. The basis used for the levy is the capital stock allotted to the applying member banks at it's face value, or about $110,000,000.

INDICTMENTS END NEW HAVEN PROBE

Grand Jury Returns True Bills Against Magnates.

FOUR PLEAD NOT GUILTY

Within a Few Hours After Indictments Handed Down Four of Accused Men Appear in Court, Plead Not Guilty, Give Bond.

New York, Nov. 2.—Within a few hours of the handing down today of Federal grand jury indictments accusing 20 present or former directors and the former general counsel of the New York, New Haven & Hardford Railroad of criminal violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, four defendants entered pleas of not guilty in Federal court and were released under bond. It was reported tonight that several of those indicted would claim immunity on the ground that they appeared as witnesses in the Interstate Commerce Commission's investigation of the New Haven's affairs.

The indictments today were the outcome of a grand jury inquiry which has been in progress for several weeks. Charles S. Mellen, president of the New Haven and principal witness in this inquiry, was not indicted. Mellen's name appears, however, in a list of officers and former directors mentioned as "conspirators." The late J. P. Morgan is named in this bill as one of the "conspirators."

Bench warrants were issued for the arrest of those indicted. George F. Baker, rated in recent years next to the late Mr. Morgan as the leading financial power of Wall Street; Lewis Cass Ledyard, one of the country's best known attorneys, and Charles M. Pratt, a Standard Oil director, appeared personally in court to enter their pleas. George Mc Colloch Williams, who is 82 years old, was represented by his son. Their bail was fixed at $5,000 each. The complete list of those indicted is as follows:

Those Indicted.

William Rockefeller, George Mac Culloch Williams, Charles F. Brooker, William Skinner, D. Newton Barney, Robert W. Taft, James S. Elton, Jas. S. Heimingway, Charles M. Pratt, A. Seaton Robertson, Frederick F. Brewster, Henry K. McHarg, Edward D. Robbins, former general counsel of the road; Alex. Chrane, George F. Baker, Thos. DeWitt Cuyler, Theodore N. Vail, Edward Milligan and Francis T. Maxwell.

The men indicted include some of the foremost financiers and railroad men in the United States.

William Rockefeller is a brother of John D. Rockefeller and one of the chief figures in the Standard Oil Company.

George F. Baker is one of the wealthiest men in the United States.

Theo. N. Vail is the head of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

Robt. W. Taft, of Providence, is a director in several New England corporations and Royal C. Taft who was mentioned in the list of conspirators not indicted, was a former Governor of the state of Rhode Island. Mr. Taft died in 1912.

PARLOR AND SLEEPING CAR TAX HELD LEGAL

Supreme Court Hands Down Decision in Florida Case—Must Pay Tax

Washington, Nov. 2.—The Florida parlor and sleeping car tax today was upheld as constitutional by the Supreme Court of the United States.

The Florida statute imposed a tax of $1.50 on each $100 of gross receipts of state business of parlor and sleeping car companies.

This is the second time the tax was brought to the supreme court's attention by the ullman Company. The first time the court dismissed the case because of the death of one of the parties to the suit.

Justice Holmes announced the decision today.

WATER DELAYS OPERATIONS.

Inundations of Canals in Belgium Prevent Action Being Taken.

Berlin, Nov. 3.—Via London—German army headquatrers today issued this announcement:

"Operations in Belgium have been rendered difficult by inundations of the Yser and the Ypres canals. Our troops have advanced near Ypres. At least 800 prisoners and some British guns were captured.

"The forces to the westward of Lille have progressed.

"About 1,500 prisoners were taken near Vailly. In the region of Verdun and Toul there has been only insignificant fighting.

"In the northeast the battle against the Russians is still indecisive."

PEACE CONFERENCE DISREGARDS CHIEF

Gutierrev Elected Provisional Head of Mexico.

CARRANZA OBJECTED

Regardless of His Declaration That He Would Yield Power Upon Selection of Successor, Carranza is Still on Job.

El Paso, Texas, Nov. 2.—The conference of revolutionary chiefs at Aguas Calientes has disregarded General Carranza's protest and elected Eulalio Gutierres provisional president of Mexico, according to an official report reaching the border today. Gutierres was appointed provisional governor of the state of San Luis Potosi by Carranza. He is regarded, however, as more a sympathizer with Villa in the present controversy.

The voting at the convention did not end until after midnight. Gutierres received 88 votes. His nearest competitor was General Juan Cabral, the Sonora commander, for whom 35 delegates voted.

Although General Carranza has stated that he would give up the executive power at the completion of the transactions of the Aguas Callentes convention, the first chief of the Constitutionalists tonight had not recognized Eulalio Gutierrez, appointed by the convention to be temporary president of Mexico.

Carranza, now in power at the national capital, today issued a further demand for explanations from the convention, which previously had retired both himself and Villa. Evidences tonight pointed to a possible conflict between the Carranza and Villa factions, it was said. It was reported that both sides had begun troop movements. The short term of office, limited to twenty days, according to Gutierrez, was out of consideration for Zapata delegates, who had no vote in the convention for lack of authorization from their chief. Within the 20 days allotted it was expected Zapata could arrange to allow his agents to vote for him.

A message from the Central Bureau of Information at Mexico City, given out by the consulate general's office today, reads:

"As soon as the first chief was informed of the action of the Aguas Callentes convention, he stated to the convention delegates that he was disposed to do as he had promised, to give up his command and execute power as soon as the convention had fixed the form of provisional government and arranged for Zapata and Villa to give up command of their forces.

"Also he asks that an explanation be made to him of the motives which had impelled the convention to decide to accept his resignation and the motives for which it had considered expedient his resignation from power."

WASHINGTON INTERESTED.

Officers Watching Mexican Developments But Make no Comment.

Washington, Nov. 2.—Government officials were keenly interested today in the announcement that Eulilio Gutierrez had been chosen provisional president of Mexico by the Aguas Calientes convention, but made no comment.

The evacuation of Vera Cruz, a note to the Carranza government from the State Department reiterated, will be carried out as soon as the central government gives guarantees that Mexicans who served the United States during the American occupation are protected and that customs duties and municipal taxes will not be re-imposed.

The Aguas Calientes convention has approved the American demands but General Carranza has hesitated to issue a proclamation carrying the required assurance.

While Carranza's attitude toward the convention's order was a matter of doubt, officials here were confident that civil war would be averted and a compromise effected.

WILLIAMS WANTS INFORMATION

Comptroller of the Currency Asks New York National Banks for Data

Washington, Nov. 2.—Comptroller Williams telegraphed today to New York City national banks for information on interest rates on call loans.

"Please telegraph this office the highest rate of interest charged by you during the past week on call loans secured by bond and stock collateral," the message read. "Also state whether you are charging more than 6 percent on call loans. If you are charging more than 6 percent please advise when you may be reasonably expected to reduce the rate."

CONSIDER RATE INCREASE

Interstate Commerce Commission Take Petition Under Consideration

Washington, Nov 2.—The Interstate Commerce Commission today began formal consideration of the application of eastern railways for advanced freight rates in what is called the November conference. A decision supplemental to that of August 1st, which permitted some increases and denied others, is expected within a month.

The commission has before it other questions which cannot be delayed. Under the law its annual report must be in the hands of the public printer by November 15.

VAIL IS SURPRISED.

Head of Western Union Did Not Expect Indictment—Will Not Talk.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 2.—Theo. N. Vail, president of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., who is here recovering from slight injuries received in a fall at Cape Henry Saturday, declined to discuss his indictment. He seemed surprised when informed of it.

FOOD EXHAUSTED BELGIANS STARVE

Seven Million Are Practically Without Food.

AWAIT AMERICAN GRAIN

Everything Not Commandeered by Belgian Army Has Been Seized by Germans—Cattle Driven Off and Crops Razed.

Brussels, via London, Nov. 2.—Between six million and seven million Belgians have little or nothing to call "home". They are a people almost without a country.

Foodstuffs, forage, horses, cattle and automobiles not commandeered by the Belgian army have been seized by the Germans. Practically every acre is now swept of everything valuable.

It is estimated that there are now 200,000 Belgians in England and 800,000 in Holland. The lowest estimate made here places the number of Belgian homes destroyed or uninhabitable at one million. Malines, Louvain, Namur, Liege, Charleroi, Mons, Dinant and a score of smaller places have been so shattered by the artillery fire that less than half of the normal population are decently sheltered.

A report from Limburg says that the supplies for the bread line have been exhausted and the feeding can be resumed only when American food arrives.

The seizure of cattle for the armies has left the country without beef, milk and cheese. The supply of grain has been cut off. For several weeks Flanders was able to help the eastern portion, but now Bruges, Ghent, Antwerp and Ostend are suffering the same distress which earlier befell the eastern part of the country.

All Business Ceased.

At Liege, the Pittsburg of Belgium, the steel industry has been brought to a standstill. At Antwerp, the New York of the Belgians, all shipping has stopped. Hundreds of big steamers lie idle at the docks. Thousands of freight trucks are rusting beside the canals while the horses are dead on Flemish battlefields. The drivers and freight handlers are in hospitals or with King Albert's army.

Nieuport and Ostend, the latter suggesting Atlantic City to an American, are occupied by the Germans and the hotels are filled with German wounded.

Brussels, the deserted capital, has been spared destruction, but its industries are shut down. Lace workers are being fed at soup kitchens. The stores have no food to sell and the public has no money to buy if opportunity offered. Members of noble families have discharged their servants and joined the bread line.

The fear is commonly expressed that the city with its famous buildings will be destroyed either by attack or by the Germans themselves should they be compelled to retire.

German money is in general use. Brussels has no postal communication except with Germany. Everything is censored. No railways are operated in central Belgium. Most of the lines are without bridges. Canals are the only avenues for the shipment of freight.

Belgians here estimate that one-fifth of the Belgians remaining in the country have employment of some sort. These include farm owners and lessees. The beet crop has been ruined by the armies and sugar factories are closed. There are no horses or other equipment for harvesting, or trains to move the small amount of beets that have survived the devastation of war, and few able bodied men to assist the women, who are endeavoring to ward off starvation by gathering what little remains of the crops in the field.

Factories in Ashes.

Antwerp's diamond cutters are in the army. Malines' tapestry factories are in ruins. Many cotton mills are in ashes and those that still stand are closed. All universities and schools have been abandoned. Nearly all physicians are at the front or serving in the hospitals. Hundreds of priests and nuns are caring for the sick and wounded. Few churches are fit for occupancy as hospitals or otherwise. Convent homes have been deserted by the sisters. Many are so badly wrecked they could afford no shelter.

Canals leading from Belgium to Holland, and the one railway line between Antwerp and Rozendaal constitute Belgium's only communication with neutral territory. The disheartened Belgians are unable to communicate with their relatives whether they are refugees in Holland or soldiers on the battle line. Their isolation is almost complete. To the grief over their dead and the exile of their government is now added the awful spectre of starvation.

The single ray of hope is afforded by the American commission for relief in Belgium. The liberality of Holland is described as splendid but the country's grain supply is exhausted. Great Britain having limited Dutch importations, the sole source of an adequate food supply is the United States.

Even the few Belgians with money cannot buy food. There is no wheat, flour, coffee or salt to be had at any price. In many cities conditions are worse than in country districts. Bakeries are closed and vegetables are the only diet. Supplies that the American commission is shipping will help a little, but thousands of Belgians are hungry.

The absence of King Albert and his officials has made it impossible for the local authorities to make their plight known.

CAPT. W. A. FRY DEAD

End Came at Home in Fayetteville Yesterday Morning

Capt. Wm. A. Fry, a well known engineer on the Coast Line, living at Fayetteville, died at his home in that city yesterday morning. He was well-known in Wilmington and held in the highest regard by a host of friends.

The following is from yesterday's Fayetteville Observer:

"This city was shocked today to learn of the death of Mr. William A. Fry, which occurred at his home on Mumford street at 4:15 o'clock this morning. He had been unwell of late, but nothing serious was apprehended, and Sunday he seemed better than usual. Early this morning, however, he grew ill, and a physician was summoned, who gave him relief, but he died shortly after the doctor left the house. Heart failure is thought to have been the trouble.

"Mr. Fry, who was 50 years of age, was well liked in Fayetteville for he was a good citizen, a kind neighbor and a devoted husband and father. He is survived by his wife and four sons—W. A. Fry, of Washington, D. C., Thomas, of Wilmington, and Theodore and Duvall, of Fayetteville. Mr. Fry had been for years an engineer on the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad.

The funeral services will be held tomorrow (Tuesday-afternoon, at 3:30 o'clock, from Hay Street Methodist Church."

REV. W. E. COX THE ORATOR.

Will Deliver Oration at Elks' Memorial Service.

Cox, pastor of St. John's Episcopal church, announcement to this effect having been made yesterday by Exalted Ruler S. M. King, chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for the event.

The selection of Mr. Cox as the orator for the memorial service is a most agreeable one, as he is a pleasing and eloquent speaker. His oration is sure to be in keeping with the beauty and impressiveness of the other features of the solemn ceremonial, in honor of the members of the order who have died.

BEGIN EDUCATIONAL WORK

Important Feature of Y. M. C. A. Work Inaugurated Last Evening—Several Classes Tonight

An important part of the work of the Young Women's Christian Association this winter will be that of the educational department, of which Mrs. M. L. Stover is chairman and Miss Margaret Gibson is director. Several classes were organized at the association building on North Fourth street last evening and others will meet tonight at 8 o'clock. Miss Anna Troutt, the general secretary, is very much gratified at the great interest that is being taken by the members in this work.

The class in first aid to the injured, of which Dr. Robert B. Slocum will be the instructor, will meet tonight at 8 o'clock to organize. Over 30 young ladies have already registered for the course and it will be necessary to divide it into two sections, one of which will meet one afternoon in the week at 4 o'clock and the other 8 o'clock at night. The course will follow the First Aid textbook of American Red Cross Society and this book can be purchased at the building this evening. All those who have registered for the course and any others who may desire to do so are requested to meet with the class tonight.

Other classes which will meet tonight at 8 o'clock are as follows: Basketry, Miss Louise Harlow, instructor; Parliamentary law, Miss Margaret Gibson, instructor; bookkeeping, Mrs. Isabel St. Amand, instructor.

Other classes will be organized on Thursday and Friday nights. There will be no classes on Wednesdays.

The classes which will meet Thursday evening are as follows: Sewing and Dress Making, Miss Julia Yopp, instructor; embroidery, Miss Catharine Schonwald, instructor; Domestic Science, Miss Grace Logan, instructor; mission study class.

On Friday evening the following classes will meet; Arithmetic, Mrs. W. M. Creasy, teacher; english and spelling Miss Elizabeth Le Gwin, teacher.

The Bible class, which will be under the direction of Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure, will meet Friday morning at 11 o'clock. The night class which will meet every Monday evening at 8 o'clock met last night for the first time. Mrs. C. O. Byerly is the teacher.

An attractive prospectus of the courses to be given has been printed and is now being distributed. It also contains other information about the Y. W. C. A.

The classes which met last night for organization were: Stenography an typewriting, Miss Ida Black, teacher; China painting, Miss Florence Potter, teacher. The class in millinery of which Mrs. James Smith will be the instructor will meet next Monday evening for the first time.

Mrs. J. S. Lowe, of Roanoke, Va., who was recently elected House Secretary, is expected to arrive today or tomorrow and will take up her duties immediately upon her arrival. On account of the limited room it will only be possible to accommodate a few girls. Meals will be served in the building. The Boarding Home is designed to meet the needs of the self supporting young women of Wilmington and to extend to the them the hand of Christian fellowship.

FEDERAL QUARANTINE AGAINST CATTLE DISEASE.

Foot and Mouth Disease Causes Prompt Action by Government.

Washington, Nov. 2.—Federal quarantine to check a dangerous outbreak of foot and mouth disease among cattle in the Middle West was extended today to include Pennsylvania, Indiana, Michigan and Illinois and virtually to place Ohio under the same restrictions.

It affects the Chicago Union Stock Yards to the extent that no live cattle may be shipped from there, even to another infected area. Under the official interpretation of the order, cattle from areas from other than those under quarantine may be shipped to the Chicago yard but they must be shipped as dressed meat.

More than that, it is harmless, for it does not hurt the stomach, does not affect the bones and joints, nor does it alter the integrity of the nerves and spine. But it does sweep through the blood, a powerful, searching, cleansing influence, remarkable for results and a tremendous relief to those who suffer the humiliation of skin eruptions.

Nearly all sickness is due to sluggish blood. And if you let S. S. S. bathe your system with its wonderful influence your nervous troubles, your wan, weary, faded, listless, lifeless body will revive and become so renewed with the sense of enjoyable health you will scarcely know yourself. Try S. S. S. today. Get a bottle at any drug store. It will put you on your feet; keep you going all day and enable you to sleep sound and restful. S. S. MRS. THOMSON TELLS WOMEN

How She Was Helped During Change of Life by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I am just 52 years of age and during Change of Life I suffered for six years terribly. I tried several doctors but none seemed to give me any relief. Every month the pains were intense in both sides, and made me so weak that I had to go to bed. At last a friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me and I tried it at once and found much relief. After that I had no pains at all and could do my housework and shopping the same as always. For years I have praised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for what it has done for me, and shall always recommend it as a woman's friend. You are at liberty to use my letter in any way."—Mrs. THOMSON, 649 W. Russell St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Change of Life is one of the most critical periods of a woman's existence. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to carry women so successfully through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

APPLY SULPHUR IF SKIN BREAKS OUT

SULPHUR DRIES UP ECZEMA

USE LIKE COLD CREAM TO STOP ITCHING

Any breaking out or irritation on the face, arms, legs or body when accompanied by itching, or when the skin is dry and feverish, can be readily overcome by applying a little bold-sulphur cream, says a noted dermatologist.

He informs us that bold-sulphur instantly allays the angry itching and irritation and soothes and heals the Eczema right up, leaving the skin clear and smooth. Bold-sulphur has occupied a secure position for many years in the treatment of cutaneous disorders because of its parasite-destroying property. Nothing has ever been found to take its place in treating the irritable and inflammatory skin affections. While not always establishing a permanent cure, it never fails to subdue the itching irritation and drive the Eczema away, and it is often years later before any eruption again appears on the skin. Those troubled should obtain at any pharmacy an ounce of bold-sulphur cream, which is applied to the affected parts in the same manner as an ordinary cold cream. It isn't unpleasant and the prompt relief afforded, particularly in itching Eczema, proves very welcome.

WM. H. SPENCER FOUND DEAD IN WASHINGTON

R. P. O. Clerk From Rocky Mount Commits Suicide

Attorney General Gregory's Letter Sent to Marshal Dortch Giving Decision as to Putting Deputies on Salary Basis.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—William H. Spencer, a railway mail clerk, of Rocky Mount, was found dead in his room here today with a bullet hole in his left chest. Certificate of suicide was given by the coroner. Spencer has been in ill health and only recently returned to his duties here after having been on sick leave for several months. J. W. Goodloe, one of the officials of the service, said that Spencer has been despondent over his health for some time.

Your Washington correspondent is not saying whether he thinks Collector Josiah William Bailey and United States Marshal W. T. Dortch were "sat down upon" by Attorney General Gregory. That is going to be left to others to decide. The first time Marshal Dortch comes to Raleigh he will doubtless show Mr. Bailey a copy, indeed if not the original, of the letter written by Attorney General Gregory to both Senators Simmons and Overman in which he makes the flat-footed statement that the two senators had been misinformed as to the number of violations of the criminal law in the Eastern district.

This letter was sent to Mr. Dortch Saturday. He must have it by this time. The writer had the letter in his possession and read it carefully before it was sent to Raleigh. Indeed, he has a very fine copy of said letter now, and if Mr. Dortch does not furnish Mr. Bailey with a copy I shall be glad to do so.

Whoever asked for the deputies misinformed Senators Simmons and Overman because, according to the Attorney General's letter, the court record does not bear out the representations made that nine deputies should be placed on a regular salary basis, and, further, only a third of the number which had been promised before a special agent of the Department of Justice made his investigation and report will be furnished. So says Attorney General Thomas Watt Gregory, recently promoted to one of the highest posts in President Wilson's cabinet. The writer knows, too, that the letter was signed by Mr. Gregory himself, and that the investigation as to the needs in Eastern Carolina were made under the personal supervision of Attorney General Gregory. It may be that the Attorney General's personal investigators were wrong, but General Gregory does not think so just now.

NAVAL STORES TAKEN OFF CONTRABAND LIST.

But Little Relief Expected at Savannah Because of High Insurance Rate.

Washington, Nov. 2.—Rosin and turpentine have been removed from the conditional contraband list by the British government. The British ambassador today so notified the State Department. The action is important particularly to the South, where large quantities of naval stores are awaiting shipment to European ports.

Insurance Rate Prohibitive.

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 2.—Prominent naval stores factors here, while gratified at the announcement that Great Britain will regard rosin and turpentine as non-contraband, declared today that this will have but little bearing upon the transportation of supplies from Savannah. They asserted that the present war risk insurance rate makes such transportation prohibitive.

DEATH AT MOUNT OLIVE.

Infant Son of Mr. David Reaves Has Passed Away.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Mt. Olive, N. C., Nov. 2.—David Reaves, Jr., the three-month-old son of David Reaves, died at its home Sunday morning at 9 o'clock, having been in poor health practically all of its short existence, quite likely due mostly to its lack of motherly care, of which it was deprived by the death of its mother when it was only a few days old. Its father and several small brothers and sisters survive and mourn its departure. The remains were interred in the local cemetery this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

TOUCHING TRIBUTE TO GOVERNOR C. B. AYCOCK.

By Messrs. J. W. Bailey and M. H. Allen at Goldsboro Last Night.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Goldsboro, N. C., Nov. 2.—Hon. J. W. Bailey, of Raleigh, and Hon. M. H. Allen, of this city, closed the Democratic campaign in this city tonight and were greeted by a large and cultured audience. Both speakers paid a touching tribute to the late Chas. B. Aycock who had always during his political career made his closing speech in this city upon the eve of election day.

GERMANS INTERNED IN AMERICA.

Deserters Arrive in San Francisco on Liner and Arrested by Marines.

San Francisco, Nov. 2.—The first troops of warring European nations to be interned in this country were taken in charge here today by United States marines when four men said to be deserters from the German gunboat Gier, undergoing repairs at Honolulu, arrived on the Pacific Mail steamer Korea. The German seamen were taken aboard the United States cruiser Cleveland and supposedly will be interned in this country during the war.

DATE SET FOR TRIAL.

Of Suit to Force L. & N. to Allow Commission to View Correspondence.

Washington, Nov. 2.—The suit involving the right of the Interstate Commerce Commission to examine all the correspondence of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company in furtherance of an investigation directed by the Senate was today advanced by the Supreme Court for hearing on December 7th. The Federal district court of Kentucky held the commission has no right to examine the railroad's correspondence with its attorneys.

NEWS OF A DAY FROM THE STATE'S CAPITAL

Sculptor Arrives to Set Up a Statue and Bust.

Two Nephews of Col. Feild Join English Army—Memorial Service in Church of Good Shepherd—Highway Robbery.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 2.—F. H. Packer, the New York sculptor, arrived today to set up the statue of Thomas Ruffin and the bust of Judge William Gaston, in the new Supreme Court and Historical Commission building. The Ruffin statue is to be set up in the vestibule of the building to the left of the main entrance and the Gaston bust is to be placed on one of the pedestals at the foot of the main stairway on the first floor, a bust of Judge W. P. Bynum to be set up on the corresponding pedestal on the other side of the main stairway later.

The unveiling of the Gaston bust will take place on November 24. The date for the unveiling of the Thomas Ruffin statue is not yet fixed. The address for this occasion is to be by Chief Justice Walter Clark.

Sons Join English Army.

Col. Alex. J. Feild received a letter today from his brother, Thomas L. Feild, of London, England, to the effect that his two sons have entered the English army for war service, one of them as a lieutenant in the Eighth Essex regiment, and the other in the artillery service. Mr. Feild is a native of Warren county, and married Miss Capart, of Kittrell. He has been connected with the shipping business in London, England, for the past thirty years, both his sons having been born in England.

Training Fire Fighters.

Deputy Insurance Commissioner Sherwood Brockwell, the expert fire-fighter of the State Department of Insurance, will spend this week at Hickory, and the following week at Asheville, giving special training to the fire fighters of these two western Carolina cities. He has just completed a week's training for the firemen in Kinston. While on his western Carolina trip he will also pay brief visits to the fire departments of Lenoir, Statesville, Charlotte, Concord, Salisbury and Newton.

Arrests for Highway Robbery.

Five negroes are held in the city prison as suspects in connection with the highway robbery of J. E. Smith, late last night, in the southeastern suburbs of the city. Smith is a well known farmer who lives five miles from the city, and he and a negro farm hand were returning home when two negroes accosted them and demanded that they hand over what money they had, revolvers being leveled at them the while. Mr. Smith was obliged to hand over about fifty dollars that he had with him. The police are confident that they have the two negroes who committed the robbery, but they have not yet recovered the money that was taken from Smith.

Memorial Services.

At the Church of the Good Shepherd Sunday morning the All Saints Day service was in memoriam of communicants who had died during the past year, and of two distinguished former rectors of the church who died during the year, Rt. Rev. Robert Strange, bishop of the diocese of East Carolina, and Rev. William Meade Clark, D. D., rector of St. James' church, Richmond, and editor of The Southern Churchman. There were only four of the communicants of the parish who died during the year.

Dr. Pittinger, the rector, in paying tribute to the two distinguished former rectors, now deceased, declared that when he entered on his duties as rector here twenty odd years ago, he found and still finds the most marked evidences of the splendid pastoral work of both of them.

ELIADA ORPHANAGE AT ASHEVILLE DESTROYED.

Thirty-Five Children Saved from Flames by Fire Drill.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Asheville, N. C., Nov. 2.—Eliada Orphanage, founded seven years ago by Rev. L. B. Compston, was destroyed by fire this morning as the 35 boys and girls who are inmates of the institution were preparing to take up their class room duties. A perfect fire drill enabled the instructors to take the children from the building without trouble, the boys and girls marching from the house immediately following the sounding of the alarm.

The structure was situated four miles from Asheville and the local firemen were appealed to for aid. A brigade left here with chemical extinguisher and was able to save all of the outhouses. It was the novel experience of the firemen to fight the flames with boiling water, the water line which was completed Saturday running beneath the site of the burning structure. In going under it the water was heated to the boiling point.

To Get Rid of Wrinkles and Bad Complexions

It is more important now than during the period of profuse perspiration, to keep the pores clean. All cosmetics clog the pores. In cool weather this interferes greatly with elimination of waste material, injuring instead of aiding the complexion. Ordinary mercolized wax serves all the purposes of creams, powders and rouges, giving far better results. It actually peels off an offensive skin, at the same time unclogging the pores. Minute particles of scarf skin come off day by day, causing not the least pain or discomfort. Gradually the healthy younger skin beneath peeps out, and in less than a fortnight you have a lovelier complexion than you ever dreamed of acquiring. Mercolized wax, obtainable at any drug store, is spread on nightly like cold cream and washed off mornings. One ounce usually suffices.

For removing wrinkles, without stopping the pores with pasty stuff, here's a never-failing formula: 1 oz. powdered saxolite, dissolved in ½ pint witch hazel. Bathe the face in this daily for awhile; every line will vanish completely. Even the first application gives surprising results.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1914.

Be of good cheer.

Vote for all ten amendments.

The ocean ought to be a free horse for everybody, but it isn't.

Probably Ham was so called because he played the part of a hog.

Lots of us will not be able to settle up unless things soon settle down.

A few men have their judgment carefully based but most of them have theirs carelessly biased.

Vote for the Tax amendment—most important of all—if you happen to be opposed to the balance.

Christian, Islam, Pagan and heathen are all warring in common. "Bubble! Bubble! Toil and trouble!"

Owing to the fact that this is election day, we should not forget to say "Goodbye, Progressive Party".

Vote today just to help North Carolina show that it stands up to the Woodrow Wilson administration.

So long as the foundations of the earth do not give way there is hope. It could be worse, don't you see?

Make an X-mark with every "Yes" on your constitutional amendment ticket today in order not to make any mistake.

A friend of ours remarked that "Turkey has put her foot in it". Our idea about it is that Turkey has lost her head.

Lots of men would rather be right than be President but it often happens that they are wrong when they think they are right.

The tough time the Japs are having in capturing the forts at Tsing Tau is enough to make them wonder who put the man in German.

The situation in Europe is exceedingly annoying to us. We insist that the powers restore order just as they insisted that we should do in Mexico.

Most people admit that the old Reconstruction constitution needs changing to bring it up to date, to suit modern conditions. If it is not done today, when will it ever be done?

We got into Vera Cruz without much trouble, but we are having a great deal of trouble about getting out. A man once caught a bear and had to hold on to it to keep from being caught by the bear.

A sniper is a fellow who won't come out in the open and fight. There are more snipers than you are aware of. They will take a shot at others from under cover, but they won't uncover so others can take a shot at them.

To vote against the constitutional amendments today is another way of saying that the convention of 1868, composed largely of carpetbaggers and negroes, knew better what the people of North Carolina would need 50 years afterward than the people or their chosen representatives in the Legislature know today what they need this year.

"Come near, ye nations to hear; and hearken, ye people. Let the earth (all the people of the earth) hear, and the fullness thereof; the world and all the things that come forth from it. (The riches of the earth, wealth and prosperity). For Jehovah hath indignation against all the nations, and wrath against all their hosts. He hath utterly destroyed them, He hath delivered them to the slaughter (battle). Their slain shall also be cast out and the stench of their dead bodies shall come up; and the mountains shall be melted (drenched) with their blood. And all the hosts of heaven (of safety, of protection, militarism) shall be dissolved, and the heavens (places of safety) shall be rolled together as a scroll; and all their hosts shall fade, as the leaf fadeth from the vine, and as a fading leaf from the fig tree."—Isaiah XXXIV-1-5.

SETTING THE SOUTH RIGHT

It is a good thing that the directors of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States came South last month and looked this part of the country over while it was in distress on account of the cotton crisis suddenly brought to it on account of the war in Europe. About all the directors found was an unnecessarily large amount of hysteria, but no evidence of hard times, suffering or slump. They were surprised at that, for if they had remained North and judged from the amount of howling emitted from certain elements in the South, they wouldn't have known any better than that the South was on its last legs, trying to hand around the hat.

The party traveled through North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas and Tennessee. They visited Wilmington and other cities in every important section of the Cotton Belt. The tour was made in response to many invitations from the organizations in the South affiliated with the National Chamber of Commerce, and in accordance with the plan of that body's directors, to meet in different sections of the country from time to time, so as to become personally acquainted with the business men in those sections and to observe conditions.

Well, these gentlemen came, saw and returned. If they had not heard us howling, they would not have known we had to howl. In fact, they saw very little to howl about. They found out that we had possibly or probably lost money on a year's cotton crop, but nowhere did they see any evidence of the South's being down and out on account of it.

Mr. John J. Fahey, president of the national organization, in recounting their impressions as to conditions in the South generally, so far as the directors were able to observe, spoke about the trip after he returned North. Among other things he said:

"We are all of us very glad that we went through the South at this time because of the conditions affecting cotton and Southern products generally as a result of the war. It was suggested to us even after arrangements had been made for the trip that we were going to the South at a most unfortunate time and that it might be better to postpone the journey. We are very pleased that we did not do so. The reports which have been circulated giving the impression that the South was nearly prostrated and in a state bordering on panic as a result of the shutting off of exports of cotton, lumber and naval stores have certainly been very much exaggerated. We have had opportunity to talk with hundreds of business men, many bankers, planters, merchants and commission men. While all recognize the fact that the disruption of business caused by the war brought problems out of the ordinary, we found everywhere the sentiment that time, patience, determination and energy, would them.

"Of course the South recognizes that it will not receive for its cotton the price it would have obtained if the war had not occured, yet many are of the opinion that with the large crop it is doubful if the price would have reached ten cents if peace had continued. It has been apparent that plans must be devised for carying the crop, and some plan worked out for reducing the acreage next year. Many suggestions have been advanced and many plans discarded, but now there is general recognition of the fact that the completion of the cotton pool and the opening of the federal reserve banking system will provide sound and valuable assistance that will go a long way toward curing the difficulty.

"In addition to this, the banks and the merchants are really getting together in their determination to work with the farmer in reducing the acreage in cotton for 1915, and thus protect values in the cotton carried over. Under the leadership of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce more than 3,000 banks in the Southern States have signed pledges agreeing to aid in every possible way the farmers who will cut their cotton crop next year fifty per cent, and turn half their acreage into grain and feed crops. Of caurse it will not be easy to do this everywhere, but there is a determination to overcome whatever obstacles there are in the way and accomplish it. On all sides, we heard the idea expressed that the present example of the unwisdom of depending so largely on one crop would prove a real blessing to the South, and lead to that diversification of crops which the country has needed so greatly.

"Cotton has been brought to market rapidly during the last two weeks, and is being sold more freely. The price seems to be hardening slowly but surely, and the general belief is that it has seen bottom. Increasing demands from our own mills and the assurance within the last few days that exports even to Germany and Austria would soon be resumed are proving very effective in steadying the market. Everybody believes that the demand will constantly increase from now on, and at better prices.

"It must be remembered that the South, during the past few years, has been enjoying the greatest prosperity in its history, and was better prepared than ever before to meet the present situation. The substantial evidence of this prosperity is reflected in the progress of every Southern city. It would be an insparation to business men in other parts of the country if they could go through the South today and observe its development. The gain that has been made is surprising, and the plans for further growth made before the war broke are going ahead just the same. Every port is making or planning extensions of its facilities with the money in hand for the work in most cases. The Southern port cities are fully alive to the opportunities ahead as a result of the opening of the Panama Canal, and the growth of Central America trade. But more important still is the general spirit of confidence in the future, and optimism which characterizes the Southern business men today."

President Fahey declared that aside from the South's complaint about losing money on its 1914 cotton crop, the directors found no evidence of distress in this section. The sum and substance of it is, the South has met up with sore disappointment but no reverse. We have given the world a wrong impression of conditions in the South by certain hysterical efforts to save the South's loss on its cotton crop, but in a few months we will all regret that we let a sense of panic take possession of us for once. We ought to wait till the worst comes before we take on so again.

WHY WE GROW GREENBACKS.

October passed away with one light and two heavy frosts but no killing frost, so the Weather Bureau reports. November 1st was ushered in like a May morning. The sunshine appeared to be fringed with gold and really it was an ideal summer day.

It will be well up in November before we shall have our first killing frost and then there will have to be several of them before they will kill much of anything. Here it is the second day of November and the balmy air is pouring through open windows, while out of doors the temperature is suggestive of surf bathing and fishing.

Vegetation is green throughout Eastern North Carolina. Grass is green and growing, and grazing for stock is better than it was during August, because the early fall is this region's second "growing season." Winter crops are growing as if it were spring, and yet this charming, delightful weather is only a peculiarity of our climate, the finest on the American continent winter and summer.

It is simply customary. We are so accustomed to it that we do not appreciate it. We take it for granted instead of taking it for an asset. A dairyman tells us he is still grazing his cows in the open field where the grass is two feet high and there is enough of it to graze a thousand cattle. His winter cover crops are spreading like a green carpet over his land, and when the wild grass gets scarce his winter cover crops will afford grazing for his cattle every day till May.

What an ideal country for dairying and cattle raising! It impresses everybody that way but our own people, because they haven't realized the advantages of the region and its marvelously evident adaptabilities. Will we wake up, or will we snooze on and let others come here to demonstrate right under our eyes what we refuse to observe ourselves?

The climate of this region is a huge asset. It is a bigger asset as a productive factor than lands yielding gold, coal or oil. A farmer tells us that he is clearing from $300 to $425 an acre in growing spring truck and fall and winter crops on every acre of his land, and the beauty about it is that he is doing it every year.

Men have gone to frozen Alaska or torrid Mexico to mine for gold and if they had claims which would produce $300 an acre in gold every year, they would consider it a rich find. Yet for less capital, less work and less privation, an industrious, intelligent man can gather a crop of greenbacks from North Carolina land practically every month in the year.

We grow greenbacks in Eastern North Carolina because we have the climate and the land. We sell all we make because we have New York and other big cities making steady demands of us. With rapid transportation and refrigerated car service to the big markets, we are enabled to market our products in New York and get a check in return in three days from the date of shipment. Next to our fine climate and the versatility and productivity of our lands, comes the transportation facilities that make our assets available.

We ought to sit up and take notice that when it comes to climate, lands, transportation and markets, Eastern North Carolina has no rival anywhere on the continent.

HOW TO GET OUR MONEY BACK.

Let us take it for granted that the South will sell its 15,000,000 bale cotton crop for $575,000,000 (seven cents a pound, exclusive of the seed value). We would lose $225,000,000, assuming that cotton ought to be worth ten cents at least. That is quite a sum of money to lose, but we can make every cent of it back in eight or nine months, and at any rate in twelve months. We can do it by raising food stuffs. In from six to eight months we can harvest oats and wheat besides vegetable crops of great value. We can pay more attention to cattle and stock raising and produce more meat values than we have done in years. If we will only adopt a self-sustaining system of agriculture we can easily get our money back, and higher cotton next October on account of curtailment of the crop will make it a sure proposition.

At Bennettsville, S. C., a few days ago, the Hon. E. J. Watson, commissioner of agriculture and immigration for South Carolina, made a talk in which he stated that South Carolina alone is sending $80,000,000 a year out of the State for livestock and food products and last year bought commercial fertilizers to the value of $31,000,000 to raise seven cents cotton. North Carolina has a food bill of similarly large proportions and so has eleven cotton growing states. Let's say that if the eleven were to produce food crops and each save just one-fourth what South Carolina spends for food stuffs produced in the West, they would save practically what they have lost on this year's cotton crop.

The South can do that by diversifying its crops. Somebody might say that is guess work, but it isn't. Farmers who have made diversification a practice are pointed to as living witnesses of the truth about it. If we could take an ante out of the Carnegie Foundation, we would be willing to offer a reward of $1,000 a piece for every diversification farmer who is not able to hold his own cotton till he gets good and ready to sell it. We know hundreds of them and we don't know a one that is a croaker.

SOWING GRAIN IN NORTH CAROLINA.

Reports from all over the State indicate that the farmers are sowing a larger acreage in grain than they have ever done before. This applies to Eastern North Carolina as well as to the western part of the State, where a considerable quality of grain has always been produced. This is one year when too much grain cannot be grown.

Some sections which have heretofore grown very little wheat will grow that crop the next year. Now is grain sowing time, and no farmer should neglect a winter cover or grain crop of some kind.

The Hoke County Journal says that all over the county the farmers are putting in more than the ordinary amount of grain. Not only are they taking to oats as usual, but rye and wheat will be planted more freely this fall than probably ever before in the history of the country. The war in Europe is having more than one effect in this country.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Some of the men who are opposing the adoption of the proposed ten amendments would oppose the adoption of the ten commandments if they had to vote on them.—Chatham Record.

The Winston-Salem automobile tragedy was one that might happen on any street in any city. Some way must be found to stop the reckless speeding of these machines. Fatalities from them unfortunately will have to be set down among the certainties, but they can be held to a reasonable minimum by properly enforced speed laws. — Raleigh News and Observer.

One argument used by the opponents of the seventh amendment (relating to revenue and taxation) is that they are afraid to entrust to the legislature the power to segregate and classify the property subject to taxation. In answer to this objection we would say that, until 1868 our state constitution did not limit the rate of taxation on either the poll or property. The only restriction in our old constitution relating to the poll tax was section 3 of article 4, which was in these words: "Capitation tax shall be equal throughout the state upon all individuals subject to the same." There was absolutely no restriction whtaever as to the amount, and yet no complaint was ever made that any legislature oppressed the people with too high a poll tax. Why then not trust our future legislatures, the representatives of the people, with the power to segregate and classify the subjects of taxation as may be best? Remember that the proposed amendment expressly limits the poll tax and also the tax on property, so that there is no danger of the rate being increased. It merely gives the Legislature the power to segregate and classify the subjects of taxation, so that there may be a more equal and just system of taxation than we now have.—Pittsboro Record.

FIRST USE OF RESINOL STOPS TERRIBLE ITCH

Jan. 27, 1914: "I suffered over eight years with eczema. It started in one little place and kept spreading until it covered my hands. My hands looked like they had been burned by fire and peeled off in large pieces until they were only raw flesh. I was told it was eczema. It itched and burned me so that I could not sleep at night. I tried all sorts of eczema salves and one prescription after another but nothing gave me any relief until I tried Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment, and after the first application my hands never itched or burned again, and were well in one week. I want every sufferer from eczema to know that they can find a cure in Resinol." (Signed) Miss Ethel Scott, Milstead, Ga.

Physicians have prescribed Resinol for nineteen years, for all sorts of skin troubles, pimples, dandruff, sores, ulcers, burns, etc. Every druggist sells Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap.

Republicanism and C. Ed. Taylor, Candidate for State Senate, Its Standard-Bearer.

Mr. Editor, The Morning Star:—

C. Ed. Taylor at last trailed to Wilmington and using as an excuse that he was here in attendance at court and being assured that he would be courteously treated and introduced by the County Democratic Chairman, essayed to "argufy" why, though admitting he and his party had not a ghost of a chance of getting into power in this part of the country, he thought some few stray votes ought to be cast his way just to show that while his Progressive and Republican parties were laid out and their measurements taken, showed signs of tremor and that, therefore, the re-interments should be postponed until November 3rd. In Sunday's issue of your paper he concludes by publishing his last will and testament and funeral notice.

His audience and the readers of his card must have been as sadly disappointed as the undersigned, for Ed. did not apologize for or deny the statement attributed to his Duplin Republican friend that he did not believe a gun had been fired in Europe and that all this newspaper war news was simply Democratic campaign lies and the real cause of low-priced cotton at this time was the Democratic party being in power. Of course, if Ed. really did agree with his Duplin friend and brother calamity howler, he doubtless would have so declared himself just as he has been doing in Brunswick county in explaining to the good people why he is for Taft or Roosevelt, one or both, while they are as widely separate and opposite as the North and the South poles.

If Ed. thought by making a speech here and following it up by publishing his funeral notice in The Morning Star and thereby secure sympathetic votes, he was too long on the trail, and besides, our boys can settle their own local party issues amongst themselves and then rally together in team work to save their house on fire or under fire.

From reports coming in, Ed. has been effervescing and "leaking at the head and staves" all over Brunswick county. The Democratic party endeavored to remedy his troubles by bidding him to come forth and get in touch with its Cooper, but to no avail. On the contrary, Ed. preferred to pursue a quiet hunt like Zeb. Vance's hated Republican revenue agent "who could lie down and drink out of a branch and tell if there was a still five miles up it, and who could look at a man's track and tell whether he was toting a quart of whiskey or a two-gallon jug."

As before stated, Ed. came to Wilmington, and his "leaking at the head and staves" all over Brunswick county fails to dampen the ardor of our "New Freedom" of Woodrow Wilson Democracy, as will be shown on the occasion of his self-announced funeral at sundown Tuesday evening next. For there is about as much logic in Ed.'s utterances as in the query propounded during the famous Zeb. Vance-Settle campaign several years ago: "If it takes three pecks of corn to make a bushel, how much will it cost to shingle a house."

In time of war we "never desert the camp in the face of an enemy," and on Tuesday next we will march on in solid phalanx to another big Democratic victory.

TODAY ELECTION DAY THROUGHOUT COUNTRY

For Congressional, State and County Officers.

Constitutional Amendments the Feature in North Carolina—Chairman Little Appeals for Large Vote—Tickets

Today is election day, and Congressional, State and county officers will be elected throughout the country, while in North Carolina, in addition, ten amendments to the State Constitution will be voted upon and adopted or rejected by the people. While this is an "off year" in politics, the campaign in some of the Northern and Western States has been sharp, though in the Solid South interest has been largely lukewarm.

Interest in North Carolina, and particularly in New Hanover county, will center on the passage or rejection of the Constitutional amendments, and the general belief in this section of the State is that they will be adopted.

Polls open this morning at sun rise, 6:34 o'clock, and close this afternoon at sunset, 5:18 o'clock. Indications are for fair weather.

Final arrangements for the election were made yesterday at noon when the members of the County Board of Elections met with the registrars for the different precincts and gave out ballots and other supplies. It was also decided that the new metal booths purchased by the county for use in the city precincts would be in use today. The point was raised after the booths had been purchased that the Australian ballot act prescribed booths of wood and canvas, but the county attorney ruled that the use of metal booths would be only a technical violation of the law, and that the new type of booths would better serve the purposes and aims of the act than the old ones. Returns will be received by the Board at the Court House tonight. The regular ticket will be counted first and then the vote on the amendments.

Jos. W. Little, Esq., chairman of the County Democratic Executive Committee, who has been in charge of the campaign in New Hanover, last evening issued the following appeal to the voters to exercise their right of suffrage today:

Appeal to Voters

"If any man loves peace better than war; if the natural conditions of abundant crops and prosperity which prevail generally in the United States appeal to a man; if conditions of peace, with men in the control of our government who are interested in the welfare of the people as a whole and the peace and prosperity of the entire Nation means anything to our citizens, surely it means enough to cause them to go out to the polls and vote today.

"This being a so-called off-year in politics in North Carolina, a great many voters seem disposed to consider their right of suffrage of no particular value at this time, and perhaps have decided not to take the trouble to vote.

"What would those same voters say if Woodrow Wilson had permitted this nation to become involved in war? What would they say if we had a condition of war in this country, with kinsmen and friends at the battle front, and hard times and starvation a reality, instead of our only problem being the handling of this year's cotton crop?

"The fact that Democratic success is assured is no sufficient answer to these questions.

"Woodrow Wilson and his party are on trial. Every Democratic voter in New Hanover County has been duly called and summoned as a juror. The responsibility today rests with the individual voter. There is nothing more that the party organization can do.

"If the fact that Woodrow Wilson and his country are at peace with the world meets with your approval; and if the legislation which has been enacted by the Democratic Congress under his administration in the interest of the people of the land, and not for the special benefit of a favored few, is in accordance with your views of right and justice, then the best way to express your approval and appreciation is to give the Democratic ticket your hearty and earnest support at the polls today.

"For two years our President has held the reins of government and it is a matter of record that all of his policies and the measures advocated by him have been wise and designed for the betterment of the condition of the people. Grave and serious questions, both national and international have constantly been presented to him. In addition he has been called upon to bear a great private sorrow. In all of these things he has remained steadfastly at his post and performed the people's business.

"I appeal to every loyal Democratic voter in New Hanover County to do his duty today. You are afforded an opportunity to participate in behalf of a great cause.

"Joseph W. Little,
"Chairman, New Hanover Democratic Executive Committee."

The Ten Amendments

Briefly summarized, the objects of each of the ten Constitutional Amendments to be voted on today are as follows:

1. To change the term "War of the Rebellion" where used to "War Between the States."
2. To increase the compensation of members of the General Assembly to $360 per session, and decrease their mileage from 10 cents to 5 cents.
3. To limit local, private and special legislation by the General Assembly
4. To change the day of inaugurating the Governor.
5. To prevent delays in trials by providing emergency judges.
6. Removing obsolete sections from the Constitution.
7. To revise and reform the system of revenue and taxation.
8. To prevent special charters to corporations by the General Assembly.
9. To prevent special charters to towns, cities and incorporated villages.
10. To require six months public school term.

Chairman M. S. Willard presided over the meeting and all the members of the board, including Messrs. W. A. McGirt, L. W. Moore, J. T. Kerr and W. E. Yopp, were present. A record of the proceedings was kept by the clerk, Mr. W. A. Williams. County Attorney Stacy and County Auditor Orrell were also present.

The sheriff will be required to furnish a bond of $25,000 as follows: Process bond, $2,500; for collection of county taxes $17,500; and for collection of State taxes, $5,000. The bonds for the other county officers are: Clerk of Superior court, $10,000; register of deeds, $5,000; recorder, $1,000; superintendent of county home, $1,000; coroner, $1,000; constable, $1,000. The law requires that these bonds shall be given through a surety company and that the county shall pay the premiums.

The jurors for the two weeks' term of Superior court beginning December 7th, were drawn as follows:

First week—Messrs. Geo. H. Hutaff, B. G. Biggs, W. R. Walker, R. C. Smith, J. F. Hansley, S. J. Bryan, J. B. Rice, B. Solomon, John R. Turner, B. M. Hill, E. S. Hancock, Wm. M. Cumming, R. S. Vaughn, J. N. Jacobi, Thomas Harvell, A. W. Winders, C. B. Hagood and J. L. Graffiln.

Second week—Messrs. J. V. Fergus, M. C. Hammond, S. S. Stokely, Gerritt Walker, W. P. Emerson, Jos. A. Price, M. M. Moore, J. R. Scull, John K. Williams, E. A. Outlaw, B. M. Wilson, R. W. Pigford, W. C. Scoggins, L. E. Hall, G. L. Huband, E. L. Matthews, J. S. Brown, Jno. W. Blomme.

Capt. J. D. Price appeared before the board to ask for a reduction of the assessment on the John W. Fredericks, Jr., a river steamer, of which he is part owner. He said he was not sure that he was required to pay taxes at all to the State and county, but that to be sure he gave in the property to the tax listers and through a misunderstanding the assessment was fixed too high. The matter was referred to Commissioner McGirt and the county attorney.

Messrs. C. B. Miller and H. T. Dula and Deputy Sheriff M. Cronly also appeared before the board to request that readjustments be made in the assessments of several lots owned by them and these were referred to Commissioner Moore and Auditor Orrell with power to act.

It was ordered that an abatement of $4,000 be made in the assessment of the estate of Mercer & Evans, a similar abatement having been made by the State and the city of Wilmington several months ago.

A communication from Col. J. VanB. Metts, secretary of the board of directors of the Red Cross Sanitarium, was read in which he expressed the warm appreciation of the board for the assistance that the Commissioners have rendered to that institution. He also enclosed the annual report of the physician in charge and called attention to the excellent work that has been done since the sanitarium was opened in February.

The report of the physician in charge stated that there had been admitted to the institution since its opening 44 patients, 16 of whom were white and 28 colored. There have been 13 deaths, 10 of these being colored. There are ten patients at the sanitarium, 21 having been discharged. Practically all of these latter are now working either in the cotton mills or are engaged in domestic work, it was stated.

The county home committee was authorized to receive bids for installing additional heating apparatus at the home. The jail committee was authorized to take steps to have plumbing installed in the county jail.

Commissioner Yopp reported that the lodge house at Oak Grove cemetery has been completed at an expense of $100 to the county. Commissioner Moore reported that the Smith Creek bridge has been painted and thoroughly overhauled.

The report of Mr. R. A. Burnett, county superintendent of roads, which was submitted to the board, is as follows:

"I beg to submit the following report for the month of October, 1914:

"Camp No. 1, is the permanent camp and quarry at East Wilmington. This camp is in charge of Mr. F. M. Rivenbark and the quarry is in charge of Mr. George Harrell.

"Number of prisoners in camp previously reported, 98; received during the month 10; released during month 38; in camp to date 70. Rock shipped from mine by cars 250 tons.

"Camp No. 2, is in charge of E. L. Eakins. This camp is stationed about 12 miles from the city on the Federal Point road. They have at this camp an average of 15 men and seven teams. This gang has built 450 lineal yards of road bed and have strawed 1,500 yards of road and put in 40 feet of 10-inch pipe. One day lost moving camp and three days lost on account of rain.

"Camp No. 3, is stationed about one mile and a half from Sea Gate station along the Greenville Sound road. This camp is in charge of A. J. Willoughby. They have at this camp 17 men and eight teams. This gang has completed 200 lineal yards of road bed and cut and stumped 300 yards of right-of-way 40 feet wide. This gang has been making a fill six and one-half deep and 200 feet long in the stiffest clay in the county. Three days lost on account of rain.

"Camp No. 4, is stationed at Kirkland along the Scott's Hill road. This camp is in charge of G. C. Orr. They have at this camp eight men and six teams. They have built and rolled out 1,700 lineal yards of road, and have cleared 400 lineal yards of road edges. One day lost moving camp.

"Gang No. 5, is an extra gang and stays at the East Wilmington camp at night. This gang is in charge of T. J. Brewer. They have in this gang eight men and three teams. They have taken up and hauled two and one-half miles of track and worked one day patching the Shell Road from 17th street to the railroad crossing. Three days lost on account of rain."

Following is the report of Mr. P. H. Rasberry, superintendent of the county home:

"I hand you herewith report of the County Home and Farm for the month of October. We now have in our care 21 patients and 27 prisoners.

"We have discharged during the past month 14 prisoners, and have received eight. During the month there was one death, Harriet Howard, a colored patient. The health of both patients and prisoners has been good, and the conditions around the home are clean and sanitary.

"As winter approaches we are clothing the patients and prisoners with heavy apparel and furnish them with extra bed covering. The heating plant will soon be completed and we will then be able to do away with the large number of open fire places which are not only dangerous but costly.

"We are getting along very well harvesting the crops, and would recommend that authority be given for baling the forage, not only for the space that is needed but for the fact that the hay will retain its strength and flavor and we can with much more ease deliver same to the different camps, after baled. The waste in hauling and feeding will more than pay the expense of baling.

"We now have 10 bales of cotton at the farm ginned and ready for sale, five bales picked but not ginned and about seven bales in the field to be picked.

"We are digging potatoes today and so far the yield looks good. The past month we have sown five acres in clover and four and one-half acres in oats and vetch, and we are now preparing the land for more oats and rye just as fast as we can.

"Our winter crop of vegetables are looking good and we hope to have plenty to furnish the home and camps. A gang of women and boys were sent to clean the court house last month.

"To comply with instructions I have had the Gordon road dragged two different times during October. Last week I arranged to reduce my force and now have only one guard assisting me on the farm."

THEATRICAL

Of "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine", which comes to the Academy Thursday, matinee and night, the Charlotte Observer of the past week had the following:

"The return of 'The Trail of the Lonesome Pine', yesterday gave Charlotteans another opportunity to make a delightful journey into the primeval fastnesses where the influences of civilization are felt but little but where real people, with real emotions, loves and hatreds dwell.

"It is a splendid cast that is interpreting Eugene Walter's mountain melodrama this year. It is every whit equal to the original company which came South two years ago, if memory serves correctly, and in some respects perhaps it is its superior. It is customary for the quality of a company to deteriorate with each successive play. There is not a weak spot in the cast that gave 'The Trail' a well-rounded, spirited and highly effective presentation here yesterday, matinee and night.

"Miss Eleanor Montell, as 'June', has nothing to fear from a comparison with Miss Charlotte Walker (Mrs. Eugene Walter), who created the part and played it here. Although not so striking a figure, her delineation of the role reveals exquisite artistry. She is extremely pretty, and has a rich voice whose modulations she controlled perfectly.

"Edwin Walter plays the part of 'John Hale', engineer at the Gap, with dignity, fine feeling and virility. He is capably supported by Joseph Wallace as 'Bob Berkeley', John Vs friend. The work of Thomas V. Morrison, as the impetuous and untamed 'Dave Tolliver' was one of the outstanding features of the play. He gives to the role a humanness that has sometimes been lacking, and wins sympathy for a character for which a cruder effort would win only contumely and jeers from the gallery. John F. Palmer as 'Uncle Billy', Miss Beatrice Litton as 'Ole Hun', his wife, Griffith Evans as 'Carl Heaton', 'Loletty's' beau, and Miss Ray Kehm as 'Loretty Tolliver' 'Dave's' sister, rose finely to the possibilities of their roles. These, with those previously mentioned, gave a finished performance that made a strong appeal to the sympathies and the interest of the two audiences here.

Great Show at the Victoria

It's a swell show the Victoria now has on. This handsome, Popular theatre crossed the tape yesterday at full speed and is going to maintain such rate not only all week, but forever more. The present show opened big at matinee yesterday and scored big again last night. The particular show is featured by the Kuma Japs, wonder workers direct from Tokio. The company, three in number, which includes just the daintiest and cutest little Japanese miss, one has ever seen, appear in an elaborately staged magical spectacle, which mystifies, startles and pleases in every way. In front of the richest kind of black and gold draperies these clever people perform all manner of wonders. Mr. Kuma is also quite an artist as a juggler, while little Miss Kuma is decidily clever in songs and dances. And by the way, elated over the great matinee Saturday, a record breaker, Manager Peiffer has arranged another 5-cent matinee for tomorrow (Wednesday) afternoon, and following the afternoon performance a reception for the ladies and children will be held on the Victoria's large stage and little Miss Kuma will serve tea, in true and fascinating Japanese style.

There are three other big features on the present show besides the Kumas, of course, Fox and Ward, noted minsters, are headliners.

5 Reels-5 Cents-Bijou

Headed by one of the biggest double reel releases of the year, today's rousing five reel bill at the popular price photoplay house bids fair to be the biggest of week, and will undoubtedly play to capacity crowds at every show. A penny-a-reel show is getting to be the rule and not the exception at the popular Bijou, and from three to four days every week, an extra reel is wedged into the already overflowing program, giving it's patrons double value-received for their "jit".

Heading today's program is that notable double reel Imp release, "Country Innocence" in which is featured popular Dorothy Phillips, with Alex Gaden. It's a pathetic human interest story and a plea against conditions which place the country girl in danger of being made the victim of a too agile tongue. That crimes of immorality will always be paid for either in blood or remorse is also strikingly pointed out. The climax is a dreadful one, but the girl in question is saved from the sorrowful fate which overtook her mother.

There's another interesting human-appeal story, a Rex drama, "Her Life Story", in which are featured Pauline Bush and Lon Chaney in the leading roles.

Then there's a big Mutual release, "A Lesson in Mechanics" which features beautiful, petite little Dorothy Gish, with Bob Harron, and is a comedy picture that is entirely out of the ordinary. The fifth and last reel is a rousing Keystone comic, "His New Profession."

Paramount Again Today.

Presenting the big Paramount Picture (a 5-reeler) of the noted actor, Hobart Bosworth, in "The Pursuit of the Phantom," the Grand started off the week yesterday in most glorious way. The audiences were large and gave high praise to the great film. It was a magnificent screen production. The acting with Bosworth in the stellar role, was brilliant and the scenery was lavish and handsome. It was something extraordinariily swell and those who missed it went shy oh a great treat. However, they will have a chance to catch up today, as again today the Grand will offer this big 5-reel film and those who failed to see it yesterday should by all means take advantage of the last chance today. It is a wonderful film, presented in wonderful way. It is a picture that is brilliantly different from any heretofore offered by the Grand. In fact, all Paramounts are different. They are the blue ribbon pictures of the day and the Grand is proud in realization that it holds the exclusive right to offer them in Wilmington, which right, however, cost a big sum.

Tomorrow Episode No. 5 in "The Million Dollar Mystery," will be presented. It will be a fete day, as besides this episode there will be other films, presenting the greatest show ever screened in a movie in Wilmington and the price of admission will be but 5 cents.

OPEN SEASON ON DUCKS.

Quail and Squirrels Still Protected in New Hanover.

Yesterday ushered in the open season in New Hanover county on wild fowl, wild turkeys and woodcock, and it is now legal for hunters to kill the above named game birds. The open season on quail and squirrels in New Hanover is still 15 days away, however, the law protecting them until November 15th.

Quite a number of sportsmen were out yesterday, and several brought back fair bags of ducks. Wild fowl are said to be fairly plentiful this season, and with colder weather the local sportsmen expect some fine sport.

The season on squirrels, quail and other game is now open in the adjoining counties, and many local sportsmen are planning to enjoy hunts in Brunswick, Pender, Onslow and the other counties in this section during the next few weeks.

Practicing for Game.

The members of the Tiger football team are working hard in preparation for the game Saturday with the strong team from Fort Caswell. Manager Lewis is confident of the ability of his team to defeat the soldier eleven, but believes in putting forth every effort toward getting his men in perfect condition for the contest. Tickets for the game are now on sale, and can be purchased at Warren's and Shepard's cigar stores. Admission is 25 cents and ladies will be admitted free. The game will be called at 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

STOLE CRATE OF DUCKS.

George Brown, Colored, Sent to Roads on Larceny Charge.

George Brown, colored, seems to have a propensity for fowls, other folks' fowls, and some time ago when he was strolling by the residence of Rev. J. S. Crowley he saw a crate of ducks—there were seven in the lot—and he is said to have appropriated and sold them to Mr. W. P. Oldham, who conducts a business on South Second street. When Mr. Crowley found that his ducks were gone he hit a hot trail after Brown and soon found them. Brown was also charged in the Recorder's court with having raided Mr. Joe Roderick's hen house Friday night and having taken as many of the chickens as he could carry.

Brown got six months on the county roads on the charge of having stolen the ducks and will be tried this morning on the charge of stealing the chickens. Arthur McNeal, colored, also implicated in the larceny of the chickens, will also be tried today.

Judgment was held open in a case against Lillie Johnson, colored, charged with assault with a deadly weapon. Judgment was suspended upon payment of the costs in a case against Dave Sanders, colored, charged with assault. James Jones, colored, was sent to the roads for two months on an old larceny charge and for 30 days in default of payment of the costs for being disorderly. John Lee, colored, paid the costs for assaulting a female. Bennie Hogan, colored, did the same for being disorderly. Mary Pope, colored, went to the farm for 30 days for being disorderly. Edmund MacRae, colored, went to the roads for three months for assaulting a female. James Green, colored, was found not guilty of assaulting a female. James Henegin, colored, paid the costs for speeding.

LOCAL DOTS.

—Cass Lawrence, colored, was arrested last night by Plainclothesman B. W. Jacobs on a charge of stealing some timber from Mr. James Williams on the Seaboard yards.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

COTTON SPOTS ARE FIRM

Situation in Cotton Market Daily Improving—Texas Offers Freer Upon Advance.

New York, Nov. 2.—Advices from the South today indicated continued firmness in the spot cotton situation. Some local spot dealers claimed Texas was offering cotton more freely at the advance and that eastern mills were holding off, but the markets as officially quoted were from ¼ to ¼c. higher in most instances, and the improvement in the expotr situation was reflected in the largest clearances for any one day since the beginning of the war.

Liverpool cables reported that beginning with tomorrow the price of January-February contracts in the local market. Otherwise there were no fresh developments with reference to the liquidation of the straddle interest or reopening of the market and so far as could be learned members of the exchange still oppose liquidating December below the 8 per cent. level, particularly in view of higher prices in the South. Port receipts today, 44,536 bales. Exports, 47,403. Interior receipts, 60,747. United States port stocks, 686,820.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

New High Levels for Present Upward Movement Established Yesterday.

New Orleans, Nov. 2.—New high levels for the present upward movement were established in the cotton market today on both spots and future contracts. January sold up to 7:55 and spots were advanced 3-16, middling being quoted at 7 1-16. The demand was good in both departments, but trading was hampered by the firmness of sellers.

Bullish sentiment was encouraged by the advances in interior spot markets, and by the sales of 20,014 bales on the spot reported by Dallas. Official notification from Liverpool that a meeting of members of the exchange there had been called for Nov. 10 to arrange for the reopening of the future business caused much favorable comment. The trade expects the future rings to resume business on Nov. 16.

Spot cotton, firm. Sales in spot, 1,-180 bales; to arrive, 1,565 bales.

MONEY SITUATION STRONGER

Increased Offerings by Banks for Long Time Loans—Practically One Rate.

New York, Nov. 2.—Further strengthening of the local money situation, as seen in Saturday's bank statement, today resulted in increased offerings by banks for long time loans. There was virtually only one rate, 6 per cent—but borrowers evinced little eagerness to accept that figure, anticipating another early reduction. Interior banks again were buyers of mercantile paper at 6½ to 7 per cent. Foreign exchange was more firm. Cables and sight drafts on London were quoted at 4.91¼ to 4.91½, easing off fractions later. Cotton shipments showed an enormous increase over the preceding week. They were the largest since the recent movemnt began.

Local banks made their first payment —about $3,000,000 in gold certificates —for Federal bank stock today. In the unofficial market, United States Steel, Amalgamated Copper and other active issues were quoted at prices well above recent figures.

Material reduction in prices of certain specialties offered further evidence of contracted steel trade conditions.

Railroad officials reported further hesitation in business throughout the west, but a heavier movement of general merchandise was noted. Grain receipts at Chicago last week were far in excess of the movement for the corresponding week of the two preceding years. The St. Paul and Pennsylvania systems issued returns for September, the former showing a handsome net increase, while the Pennsylvania's earnings west of Pittsburg were less satisfactory.

DEADLOCKED ON PLANS.

New York and Liverpool Committees on Straddle Interest Can't Agree.

New York, Nov. 2.—The Liverpool and the New York cotton exchanges are deadlocked over the settlement of the straddle interest. This was made plain today by the publication of two official cables. Accused by the New York Exchange some time ago of having broken its original agreement, the Liverpool Exchange retorted today that such an accusation was unworthy the dignity of the New York Exchange. In reply to this, E. K. Cone, president, said:

"Our board has read cables exchanged since August 31, and is unanimously of the belief that the position taken by our committee is justified."

TO OPEN FUTURES MARKET.

Liverpool Exchange Calls Meeting of Members to Discuss Plans

New Orleans, Nov. 2.—Officials of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange today received a cablegram from officials of the Liverpool Cotton Association, stating that a meeting of the members of the exchange had been called for Nov. 10 to arrange for the opening of the futures market.

CURES PIMPLES EASILY.

Simple Remedy That Clears Skin Quickly of All Eruptions.

For several weeks past J. Hicks Bunting Drug Company have done a big business in selling Hokara, the skin healer that has won so many friends in Wilmington.

It has been found to heal not only all minor skin troubles, such as pimples, blackheads, herpes, acne, scaly scalp, complexion blemishes, itching feet, piles, etc., but also the worst sores, ulcers, or even chronic eczema and salt rheum. There has yet to be found any form of wound or disease affecting the skin or mucous membrane that Hokara does not help, and its action is so quick that those who try it are simply delighted with it right from the start.

In spite of the unusual curative powers, the price is trifling. To convince everyone of its merits, J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co., will sell a liberal-sized jar for 25c. And remember that if you do not think it does what is claimed, you get your money back. You certainly can afford to try it on this plan.

SAVES DAUGHTER

Advice of Mother no Doubt Prevents Daughter's Untimely End.

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Laura Bratcher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months.

I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles.

Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me.

At last, my mother advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I thought it was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good. But I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing.

I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased, and I look the picture of health."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, get a bottle of Cardui today. Delay is dangerous. We know it will help you, for it has helped so many thousands of other weak women in the past 50 years.

At all druggists.

SIZE OF MAJORITIES THE ONLY QUESTION

As to Outcome of Election in North Carolina.

This the Statement from State Democratic Headquarters—Amendments Headquarters Believe These Will be Adopted.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 2.—In State Democratic headquarters today the odds and ends of the campaign work were being rounded up in preparation for the final "battle of ballots" at the polls tomorrow, the effort in this State being primarily for the biggest possible majorities for the Democratic ticket, the nomination of which was equivalent to election in the first instance.

Chairman Warren and Col. P. M. Pearsall have gone to Newbern to vote. Chairman Warren will return to Raleigh Tuesday afternoon and be ready to keep "open house" all that night at Democratic headquarters to get the returns from all parts of the State. County chairmen and other party leaders in all parts of the State have been instructed by the State chairman to telegraph him here as early as possible Tuesday night the election results in their counties.

Secretary J. R. Collie was directing the work in headquarters today and stated that there was nothing to add to the forecast given out by State Chairman Warren Saturday; that it is only a question now of the Democratic majorities and getting out the fullest possible vote tomorrow, and that the party organization is such that a very good "off year" vote seems assured.

Outlook for the Amendments.

Asked in regard to the outlook for the constitutional amendments, he said that the State headquarters has left the campaign as to these entirely with the special constitutional amendments campaign committee, headed by Chairman J. W. Bailey, and that State headquarters is not in position to make any forecast whatever as to the fate awaiting them, but that with nearly all the party leaders advocating the amendments they ought to carry.

Those directing the amendments campaign had no further statement today. Their attitude is that the best possible campaign for the amendments has been waged and every effort made to assure their ratification and they believe they will all be ratified, with the really serious doubt attaching to the ratification of the tax amendment, which they hope, however, to save along with the rest.

It is generally conceded here that Wake county and Raleigh will vote against the tax amendment and the local legislation amendment, more especially, and that the majority against them will be 1,500 or more. Indeed, there is a likely possibility that Wake may vote down all the amendments through the "gum shoe" fight that strong party leaders, including the sheriff of the county, have made most especially against the tax and local legislation amendments. The hostility of these leaders to Chairman J. W. Bailey, of the State campaign committee for the amendments, has helped to make more certain Wake's disapproval.

TURKEY SIDESTEPS ISSUE AND OFFERS APOLOGIES TO ALLIES

ish, French and Russian ambassadors, who left Saturday night, and later arranged for another special train to remove panic stricken Americans.

The same despatch from Mr. Morganthau said the Italian ambassador was arranging for Russian subjects to leave Turkey. Many of the Russians already were fleeing.

MUST GET RID OF GERMANS.

Triple Entente Cannot Trust Ottoman Empire—French Statement.

London, Nov. 2.—A Central News dispatch from Bordeaux says:

"The French government has issued a statement saying that the Turkish government, in reply to a note of the triple entente's powers, confined itself to proposing the recall of Turkish war ships into the Dardanelles and expressed a desire to remain at peace with Russia, France and England. But in default of the dismissal of German officers in the Ottoman service, the governments of the triple entente could not hope that Turkey would be able to maintain the passive attitude which she offered to adopt.

"The Ottoman government not having thought it its duty to give, by dismissing the German officers, the mark of sincerity to its intentions which was requested, the ambassadors of France, Russia and Great Britain, in conformity with the instructions of their governments, demanded their passports from the Grand Vizier and left Turkey.

"From the impressions received from North Africa it appears that the mussulman world intends in no degree to throw in its lot with the Turks.

TURKEY CLAIMS INNOCENCE.

Trouble in Black Sea Blamed on German Officers Aboard Vessels.

London, Nov. 2. — The following dispatch has been received by Reuter's from Constantinople by way of Sofia:

"The Russian ambassador, after receipt of the news of the Turkish attack on Odessa, immediately sought an interview with the grand vizier to ask for his passports. The ambassador was informed, however, that the grand vizier was too ill to be seen.

"Sir Louis Mallett, the British ambassador, saw the grand vizier the following afternoon and found him greatly distressed over the Black Sea incident, conserning which he protested his innocence. It is understood he expressed the hope that the powers of the triple Entente would pause before taking an irremediable decision.

"The opinion prevails in political circles in Constantinople that an adjustment might be reached through a complete apology by Turkey, payment of an indemnity, repatriation of the German officers and crews, disarmament of the cruisers Goeben and Breslau, and demobilization of the Turkish army. In diplomatic quarters, however, the opinion is expressed that such a settlement would be rejected by Turkey. War is regarded as inevitable.

"A striking evidence of the extent to which Germany is backing Turkey was afforded by the receipt a few days ago by the Constantinople branch of the Deutsche Bank of one million gold (pounds).

AMERICAN STEAMER RELEASED.

Standard Oil Vessel—England Concedes Rights of Vessels to Deliver Oil.

Washington, Nov. 2.—By releasing the Standard Oil tank steamer Platuria today the British government conceded the right of American vessels laden with illuminating oil to deliver their cargoes at Danish ports. Great Britain has reached an understanding with Denmark that the oil will not be exported to Germany. The United States government has declined tto recognize any authority on the part of the British government to detain such cargoes with or without an embargo, but as long as there are no further seizures there will be no ground for pushing the protest.

A suggestion from British sources that American vessels seeking to enter the North Sea would save trouble by voluntarily stopping at a Scotch port to have their cargoes vised has not met with the approval of the State Department, probably because of a desire to avoid recognizing any British authority over the movement of these ships.

RUSSIAN SUCCESSES CONTINUE.

Reports from Front Tell of Defeat of Germans by Russian Forces.

Petrograd, Nov. 2.—The following report from the general staff of the Russian commander-in-chief was made public here tonight:

"On the front in Eastern Prussia our troops have repulsed German attacks directed against Vladizlavoff, driven the enemy from the eastern edge of the Rominten forest and advanced to the north of Lake Raigorod.

"Beyond the Vistula our troops continue the offensive without being opposed. Only in the region of Opatow the Austrians attempted to resist us with considerable forces. They were repulsed. Beyond the Opatow river the Austrians hold a fortified position.

"In Galicia on the San river our troops entered the village of Nisko, where fierce fighting took place.

"On the rest of the front the situation is virtually unchanged."

THE GAUNTLET OR BE INTERNED.

German Cruiser at Honolulu Has Completed Repairs and Must Go.

Washington, Nov. 2.—It is believed here that repairs on the German cruiser Geier at Honolulu have progressed to such a point that the warship's commander must elect to run the gauntlet of the Japanese cruisers outside the harbor, or apply to the port authorities to have the ship interned until the end of the war.

A conference last night in Honolulu between port officials and the Japanese consul is supposed to have had some bearing on this subject, though no report has reached the Japanese embassy here.

In reply to a suggestion that, as in the case of the British cruisers hovering off Sandy Hook recently, the Japanese government might be requested to remove these vessels from the vicinity of Honolulu.

In the case of the British cruisers their presence was said to be embarrassing to American ship masters whose vessels were detained. The Japanese cruisers off Honolulu are not interfering with mercantile vessels. Their position is said to be the same as that occupied by the United States ship Kearsarge, which waited outside of the French harbor at Cherbourg until by the laws of neutrality the Confederate cruiser Alabama was forced to come out.

FIGHTING GROWS SAVAGE

Bayonet Thrusts Are Deadly—Wounded Left on Field of Battle

Berlin, via. The Hague to London. Nov. 2—Fighting now on the northwestern flank is of a particular savage character. Many of the wounded suffer from bayonet thrusts, which often pass completely through their bodies.

The Germans along wide stretches of the battle front in northern France have removed the civilian populations from the vicinity of operations, stopping the enemy's main sources of information. The Rrench artillery, which in earlier struggles along the Aisne showed a certain superiority as a result of this information, is now working to less advantage.

The Germans are using armored trains, particularly in ascertaining how far the railroads are in operation into hostile districts and in bringing up supplies of ammunition and provisions through dangerous country. They also are being used to maintain communciation with advanced cavalry divisions.

The report that Field Marshall Von Der Goltz had tendered his resignation as governor general of Belgium is denied.

BOTH ARMIES RETREATING

Germans and Austrians Are Driven Back by Russian Forces is Report

Petrogard, Russia, Nov. 2.—by way of London. The military correspondent of the Novoe Vremyia, explaining the changing dispositions of the enemy's forces, says:

"The Austrians are moving South and Southwest toward the West Galician frontier and Cracow, while the Germans, retreating from Warsaw, are falling back west and southwest toward the Silesian frontier.

"As the Russian troops from Novoe Gorgiewsk and Warsaw follow the Germans, the Russian East Prussian corps is moving in force on the regions northwest of Warsaw and are occupying both banks of the Vistula below Warsaw.

"German officers captured say the impassable roads have forced the Germans to follow the double tracked railroad from Warsaw to Czenst-Chowa.

"The southern division are following the railway lines from Kielce toward Cracow while the German extreme left is moving west toward Kalisz. This wing is drawing reinforcements from Thorn and Mlawa."

CAPTAIN AND CREW OF CHURCH ARE RESCUED

Taken from Sinking Craft in Gale Blowing 45 Miles an Hour.

Newport News, Va., Nov. 2.—Bringing Capt. A. E. Burt and eight men of the crew of the American schooner Charles W. Church, which foundered about 450 miles southeast of Cape Henry Saturday, the Norwegian steamer Belridge arrived here this morning. The rescue, which was made during a 45-mile an hour gale, was accomplished with much difficulty as the Belridge was in ballast. The crew of the Church, who had been at the pumps since Monday, were so exhausted that they could not man a life coat and a boat had to be sent from the steamer. This boat, in charge of First Officer Neil Olsen and with four men at the oar, battled for four hours before the finally succeeded in effecting a rescue and several times their boat was nearly swamped by the high seas.

The Charles W. Church left here coal lade n for New London, October 19. She ran into bad weather which continued to grow worse and on Monday she began to leak badly. The crew fought desperately and managed to keep afloat until the arrival of the Belridge.

"MATTY" ON THE STUMP

Mound Artist Breaks Into Politics in Behalf of Republican Friend

New York, Nov 2.—Christopher Mathewson tonight made what he described as "the first political speech in his baseball career." The National League pitcher took the stump in Elizabeth, N. J., in behalf of a friend, Frank H. Smith, Republican candidate for Union county register of deeds. "Matty" confined his "political" speech mostly to baseball reminiscences.

London, Nov. 3. — A Petrograd despatch says the prefect of police has issued an order expelling from the country within a week all Turkish subjects.

London, Nov. 2.—A decree has been issued prohibiting the cultivation of cotton in the upper Egyptian basins in 1915, according to Reuter's correspondent.

PLAIN TALK No. 3

If a business man went to his home after his day's work in his office and found the chairs in his library dusty; pictures hanging crooked on the wall; the room cold; a general sense of untidiness, uncleanliness and general disorder, he would register a kick and howl that would be heard all over the house. And yet — this same man spends his hours of business in an office where intelligent and regular janitor service is unknown, in fact where there are no facilities for such service. He sits through the dirt and dust. His clients and friends call; they do not see; they have become accustomed and hardened to the old order of things. And there lies the point. Few NEW faces do come. There is no attraction. Look this square in the face. Is this the case in your business? Think it over. There is a building in Wilmington which remedies all of these and many other troubles for $12.00 a month and up. Brighten up. Stir around a bit. Get yourself in the Murchison National Bank Building, and be proud of your office quarters. Visit the tenants already in this handsome building; talk to them. They have a message for you.
